Twelve M.W.C. Students To Appear In Who's Who

Twelve of Mary Washington College students will have their biographies in "Who's Who Among Students," 1941-42 Edition. The selection of these is made by some member or committee of the faculty of the College.

These students are: Edith Beamer, Hillsville, Virginia, 1942; Ada Clement, Newport News, Virginia, 1943; Dorothy Harrington, Gilbertsville, New York, 1942; Evalyn Kerby, Clifton Forge, Virginia, 1942; Sally McPhail, Lakeland, Florida, 1942; Nancy Mann, Richmond, Virginia, 1942; Margaret Moran, Warren, Ohio, 1943; Katherine Nutt, Wakefield, Massachusetts, 1942; Edna Reed, Sea-View, Virginia, 1942; Myra Russel, Denver, Colorado, 1943; Ruth Seay, Norfolk, Virginia, 1942; Betty Whitacre, (Mrs. Virgil Hunter) Blanchester, Ohio, 1942.

(NOTE: Miss Nancy Brooker and Miss Marjorie May Clapp were listed last year, and are automatically ineligible this year.)

The reason for the creation of this organization in 1934 was to have a national basis of recognition devoid of politics and dues. The plan has been two-fold: first, to serve as an honor to students, and second, to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on the great body of American students.

College heads recognize more and more the importance of extra-curricular activities in the education of a student and the evidence of her real ability. "Who's Who" acts as an incentive for the students to get the most out of their college careers, as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done, and as a standard of measurement for student comparable to such agencies as Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship Award. Last but not least, as a recommendation to the business world.

Qualifications for "Who's Who" include character as a prerequisite, leadership in extra-curricular activities, such as Athletics, Society, Religion, Student Government; and excellence in scholarship.

Approximately 550 colleges and universities name 5000 students whose biographies will appear in the next issue of this honor roll.

Ruth Seay well deserves her place in "Who's Who." Last year she served as treasurer of student government and this

Seventeen Members Added To Art Club

Mary Washington College Art Club started its second year by welcoming seventeen new members. Ribbon insignia bearing the primary colors were presented to the members. Margaret George posed in colonial costume while the club sketched in various media. Miss Dorothy Duggan, sponsor of the club, discussed the finished compositions and served refreshments.

The Art Club sponsored a sketching trip one Saturday afternoon to the waterfront. Miss Duggan accompanied the group. Old members: Jean Boyle, Jane Moss Coleman, Ruth Conover, Flora Copenhafer, Rosemary Fairbanks, Margaret George, Phyllis Higgins, Virginia Lewis, Molly McKeen, Virginia Morgan, Patricia Morris, Virginia Tappin, Betty Taylor and Jean Wade. New Members: Elizabeth Apperson, Louise Ashton, Nell Bowman, Marjorie Chambers, Carolyn Compton, Eileen Duffy, Nellie Gooch, Elsie Good, Bettie Griggs, Janet Harrison, Linda Inlay, Genevieve Johnson, Lois Miller, Nancy Morse, Dorothy Riewerts, Frances Rogers, and Jean McGregor.

Mr. Malcolm Chats About His Life

Mr. Angus Malcolm impresses one with his charm, personality, and sparkling wit. With the latter he quickly dispels any idea one might have about the lack of humor in the British.

Mr. Malcolm was born on South Audley Street in London. On his recent visit to England with Lord Halifax, he returned to his birthplace only to find it seriously damaged by bombs and vacant. At this he commented, "quite indiscriminate of them to choose my birthplace."

He received his early education at Eton which was a very beautiful place but that has been bombed also. While there, he entered actively into sports such as football, cricket, tennis, and squash-rackets. Unlike Americans he cared very little for football but he was especially fond of squash-rackets.

He received his later education at New College Oxford.

Mr. Malcolm has been in the diplomatic corps for eight years. For three years he has

Business Association Will Meet Tomorrow

The Virginia Business Education Association will meet tomorrow in the auditorium of Monroe Hall. The meeting will convene at 10 o'clock, followed by a luncheon in the main dining room of the Stratford Hotel at one o'clock. Mr. Charles L. Saeger, head of the commercial department of George Washington High School, Danville, is president of the group; Vice-president is Mary E. Smethie, Thomas Jefferson High School, Richmond; and Theodosia Shepard is secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Louis A. Leslie, executive secretary to the Gregg Publishing Company, will be the main speaker. Other important speakers will be Dr. Strong of the U. S. Civil Service and Dr. Dodd of the Mary Washington faculty. About 200 members are expected to attend this association meeting.

The program includes the following:

10:00—Music, Professor Ronald Faulkner; 10:15—Invocation, Dr. D. R. Anderson; Address of welcome, Dr. Morgan L. Combs; Response; "Is Business Education Vocational Education?", Mr. Louis A. Leslie; Explanation of Proposed Undertakings, Dr. J. H. Dodd; 12:00—Business Session; Report of Executive Board, Mr. Charles L. Saeger; Election of Officers; Luncheon meeting, Main Dining Room of Hotel Stratford; 1:00—Luncheon Music, Professor William MacDermott; "Putting the Practice In Office Practice," Mr. Wallace B. Bowman (Author and head of Business Department, Albert Leonard High School, New Rochelle, N. Y.); Entertainment, Tricks of Magic, Mr. Wallace B. Bowman.

All Commercial Seniors are invited to attend this meeting and luncheon.

Band Plays at Richmond Carolina Football Game

The Mary Washington College band has accepted an invitation to play as guest band at the North Carolina-Richmond game tomorrow night.

Since the new uniforms have come, the complete 48 piece band and color guard will stage a maneuver which includes the Skaters' Waltz, La Conga, and The March of the Ten Soldiers.

Last Friday at the Peanut Festival, the band won second prize of one hundred dollars. Newport News High and William and Mary among the schools competing.

The officers of the band are Jane Barney, manager; Debbie Goldstein, assistant manager; Barbara Beebe, publicity manager; and Eleanore Nickleson, librarian.

Correction

For the Mary Washington College Alumni Luncheon at the Richmond Commonwealth Club at 12:15 November 21, the cost will be $1.25 per plate.

Goats Win Annual Devil-Goat Rally

Sophomores and seniors are gloating this year, and with good reason, too, because the Goats were proclaimed champions at the Devil-Goat rally last Monday. The judges who handled out the all-important decision were Dr. Castle, Mr. Nicks, and Mr. Houston. Mrs. Bushnell was in charge of the contests and she had two able assistants, Nancy Mann, president of the senior class, and Frances Lee Hall, leader of the juniors.

The good sports who offered themselves as participants in the various events were Peggy Moran, Becky Buckingham, Myra Russell, Mary Patton, Muriel Bailey, Kathleen Adams, Eileen Bousch, and Jane Trevett. In the last contest a tug-o-war, after much slipping and sliding, the Devils emerged victorious.

At the end of the evening Mr. Houston played the "St. Louis Blues" and after this, the entire group joined in singing "God Bless America."

Student Government Entertains Students

The Student Government Association has invited the entire student body and faculty to a formal dance tonight in the Hall of Mirrors from 8 until 10. This will be the first time the formal ball room in Washington Hall has been used this year.

All members of student government headed by Ruth Seay, president, will be in the formal receiving line.

"Everyone has been asking me about the appearance of London since the bombing has been going on," said Mr. Angus Malcolm to the student body last Tuesday night. "On the whole London looks very much the same" at first view, he went on to say.

The second look, however, is rather worse. One will find some of the houses have no backs to them, there is no glass in the windows, and some of the buildings have no second or third stories. Eighty-five percent of London is inhabitable and inhabited.

Black-outs are not as dark as they seem to be at first. One can see the roadway and recognize one's friend if he should meet them.

Women play an important part in aiding the army, navy and air corps. They are all in uniform and have taken over every kind of duty and are doing splendid jobs.

As for night life, Mr. Malcolm said he visited two night clubs and that they looked the same to him as they did three years ago, except for the fact that the men were all in uniform. The movies are run early in the afternoon so that one may go and get home before the blackout begins.

There is now an excellent system for taking care of the homeless. The clothes the Americans have sent, the food, everything is deeply appreciated. "They only wish that there was some way to write to the donor personally and thank him," said Mr. Malcolm.

"As it stands, London is a fine proof of what a city and its inhabitants can go through and still retain a courageous, fighting spirit."

In an interview after convocation, Mr. Malcolm told Joyce Davis that the school system was "shot to bits" by this war. Since evacuation is not compulsory, many children are

THE DISCERNING AUDIENCE

Next week Hans Kindler and his National Symphony will make their annual appearance here at the College. One of the finest music organizations in the States, Kindler's orchestra is the greatest purely musical event of the year. Thursday night we'll appear at this occasion in formal dress; and as far as our appearance goes, we will be in the best of taste. What about our conduct during this occasion? A critical and appreciative audience will not applaud during or between movements neither are they boisterous in their praise. Remember, the elite audience is one in which the applause is the least.

Certainly a performer should be recognized at the beginning of a program and at the finish.

Applause and noise between movements shatters the mood which has been established and would, no doubt, be very annoying to Mr. Kindler.

MOVIES ON THE HILL

Last week many of us discovered that a special dinner and a special movie up here on the hill gave the week-end an exciting and enjoyable siant. A movie serves to break the inevitable lull between Saturday classes and Monday morning. Honestly, let us say that we can think of nothing more delightful than a good Saturday night movie here on the hill. It would be a means of entertaining company, dates, and it's something to do if you are to be here for the week-end. Here's hoping we'll have more of them.

NOTES FROM A PROF

—J. E. WHITSELL

I have become almost convinced that college girls like to be scared. I do not know why it is true, but there seems to be for girls a psychological reaction of great pleasure when they see a snake, hear a ghost story, or receive a hard assignment.

In one college where I taught, in the days when Orson Welles was conducting a radio program called, I believe, "Lights Out," the girls in various dormitories and sorority houses used to look forward eagerly to that program. From 11:30 to midnight on the night when it was given, the girls would all gather in one room, tune in the radio, turn out the lights, cover the radio dial, and then listen with delicious fright to the gruesome and haunting tale of horror which they heard.

It seems to be much the same with students in regard to class assignments. Although a few girls sigh contentedly when a teacher forgets to make an assignment; or when he makes a short and easy one, the majority shudder delightedly when a stiff task is imposed upon them. One hears them complaining among themselves, but there is always at least an undertone of satisfaction—yes, even enjoyment—that their assignment is harder than their roommate's. It is a sort of "My-daddy-can-lick-your-daddy" pride carried over into college. Sometimes a student consciously exaggerates her teacher's unreasonableness in order to enhance her own feeling of martyrdom. A hundred-page assignment of history parallel becomes one hundred and fifty pages as soon as it is discovered that the roommate's parallel is one hundred and twenty-five. "So you think you have a lot of English to read?" she is heard to say. "Well, listen to this! In my class the teacher told us we had to read ten novels and one thousand pages of parallel, not counting a 2000-word term paper." And so the story grows.

Once they are sufficiently "frightened," however—or have enjoyed the thrill of being scared—the girls often respond heroically and magnificently to the "outlandish" demands which are made upon them. Many a student writes a creditable paper or reads more than the required amount of parallel while she indulges in the luxury of "gripping" about it.

This is true not only in matters of an academic nature but in matters of extracurricular activities as well. I have known cases where girls have made truly sacrificial and praiseworthy contributions to welfare work and similar campaigns under conditions which at first almost took their breath away.

One example can be cited on our own campus during very recent weeks. On October 17, Mrs. Clayton Glass spoke at a chapel program and presented an outline of the work of Young American Wants to Help. She did not make a sentimental or begging appeal, but the need and the challenge were easily apparent. As I wondered what the reaction of our student body would be, I seemed to sense an atmosphere of uncertain expectancy in the auditorium. "What shall we do?" asked the student chairman. There was a moment or two of doubt (I could almost hear the inward groan of a thousand students, like the groan which is felt, if not actually heard, when a stiff assignment is made in a classroom); but then there poured forth a spontaneous outburst which signified an enthusiastic acceptance of the challenge. In a few minutes the Mary Washington College student body had pledged itself to equip a mobile kitchen to help in British relief, a large undertaking which required an immediate outlay of $1500. The first inward gasp at the magnitude of the task was followed by a soul-stirring response.

I am wondering now whether I have not been misjudging students for many years. Do they shudder deliciously when a hard assignment of studying is made because their sense of pride and martyrdom is inflated, or do they thrill to the challenge of a great job to be done?

Bull Session

All students wishing to express their opinions on campus affairs are asked to address their articles to the Bull Session Column.

M. W. C. COURTESY
HAVE WE GOT IT?

Dear Editor:

Tonight I feel full of pep and have lots of school spirit having just left the Devil-Goat Rally. It was really wonderful the way those girls took part and showed their true colors by being good sports, but why didn't we have more girls there? All of us talk about school spirit and then when we have a chance to show this spirit, we back down and no one hears a "peep" from us. Come on, girls, and show your Alma Mater that you are really proud of her.

While I feel in a Bull Session Mood, I'll keep on. Since Friday night I've been thinking a lot about the manners the girls on this "hill" use in public. It seems to me that by the time a girl is old enough to go to college she should know how to act at all times, but does she? According to the conduct at the movie Friday night I think not. It was disgusting the way the "ohs" and "ahs" and sighs were used when a little romantic scene was shown on the screen. Girls, we don't do that when we go in town and have to pay in order to see the show. We act as though we have had the proper training and we conduct ourselves as ladies should.

We have all talked about the possibilities of having movies at the college at least once a week. Do you believe we can obtain this privilege by acting like epos who have never seen anything before? No, indeed we cannot. Why couldn't we have shown our appreciation to those responsible for bringing that picture up here by behaving as only ladies can?

It seems that I have a lot on my mind tonight, but I just had to get it off.

Let's all work together and see what we can do to improve these conditions. I'm sure we can do it just by a little cooperation from each girl on this "hill".

A Hopeful Reader.

SOLDIER DANCES

We've been hearing so much about national defense lately, that we just can't help but think a lot along those lines. Here is one thing my roommates and I have been discussing: Why can't Mary Washington College do something to help in national defense, and why can't it be something we'd enjoy, too?

What we're driving at boils down to just this: We think it would be nice if M. W. C. could be hostess to some of the boys in nearby camps at a dance. We realize that our own student body is too large for every girl and a soldier escort to go at the same time. But why couldn't it be worked with Freshmen one week or month, Sophomores the next etc.? We're sure the officers at the camps would cooperate in sending their nicest boys, and the officials and faculty here could cooperate by acting a chaperons. Of course, we'd expect and want rules to be made to govern these dances.

All this might sound radical, but it isn't at all. The best of schools all over the country are doing the same thing with desirable results.

RAT CHAT

Your correspondent is madly dashing to get ye column whipped into shape for the deadline, per usual. Here goes for a bit of "Chat."

Figures Behind?

Willard was inspired by Dr. Caverley. There has never been such a fever of reducing before in history. During Study Hour the halls are packed with grunting and writhing Freshmen, all striving to eliminate the pounds. The situation is getting out of Penny's hands. At this rate we should all be sylphs by Prom Time.

Chit Chat

Natalie Clegg is reading this column to augment her vocabulary. We could suggest better literature. Jean Williamson refuses to be quoted herein We are wondering where all the company Letty Wall entertains comes from. Share it Letty, please . . . Sarah Dabs and Natalie Clegg finally got around to visiting little old Reedville after listening to Doris Earle Hayne speak of it for six weeks . . . Second floor front got a laugh when Gene Morris, another of your correspondents, interviewed yours truly, and vice versa. We got to speculate on The Perfect Man. Did someone say Fred? . . . Poor Nancy Lee Tucker. She went home for the weekend, and so did Philip, but neither knew the other was home. Sad, sad . . . Need some smooth wiring done? Just call on Lyra Pittman. She's an expert.

That Biology

Who was it that Dr. Castle cited as the perfect example of dissipation? . . . How green the class turned when Dr. Castle suggested something to eat in the middle of a dissection of the earth worm. Some brave souls ventured cokes, but we noticed these were barely touched. It was pretty cruel of him to suggest rolls and mustard with these specimens, especially right before lunch.

Pouch Problems

Has anyone here seen Smoochums? You bet we have! He is not content to annoy just the hockey field. Smoochums comes to games class and runs a race around the gym balcony. Dorothea Breding (beautiful playing the other day Dot) tried to catch him, but we saw a race first.

Smoochums, who belongs to Janet Wilson, has a pal. This crone attended a hockey lecture the other day, much to Miss Hoyes annoyance. Each time Poochie was evicted, he re-entered with a tardy member. For her good work we elected Bertha Bergholm "Dog Catcher."

Suzzy

The pre-Hallowe'en spirit imbued singing class last week. Suzy, the ghastly skeleton, was dressed in a snappy re-versible, moccasins, dark glasses and a cane. To top her off, Mr. Faulkner's chapeau was borrowed. Then, Suzy was stood in a menacing position directly beside Miss Chauncy's chair to await her arrival. There were some disappointed freshmen when Miss Chauncy failed to appear. Suzy looked dejected too. There was no malice intended, we assure you.

"Maha, Yaha" is threatening the popularity of the short sheet. It is less painful. Maha ! ! !

I SHALL FORGET

To be silent? Better so Than to renew that old, almost forgotten pain.

Better by far to hold the tongue Since nought there is to gain.

Rather would I suffer much Than cause your heart regret And if the years be over kind I, too, shall forget.

L. M. Nelson

Play Review

"Blithe Spirit"

By NOEL COWARD

A man, a woman, a mystic, and a seance.

The home of Charles and Ruth, husband and wife, is the scene of a mystical seance carried on by Madame Arcati. As a result of the curious procedure, the ghost of Charles' former wife returns. Visible to no one but Charles, Elvira creates a disrupted household by making Ruth insanely jealous. In contriving to kill Charles, Elvira errs and Ruth is her victim. With two dead wives on his hands Charles has the magnanimous problem of getting them both sent back "out there."

Such is the amusing and hilarious comedy of Noel Coward. Mr. Coward has done an excellent job of the fantastical. Peggy Wood and Clifton Webb in the leading roles played marvelously although the beginning of their first scene flopped. Mildred Natwick and Leonora Corbett as Madame Arcati and Elvira, did themselves proud and the play in general was a huge success.

After meeting a person such as Mr. Malcolm, it is easy to understand how a nation of such people is able to maintain their morale through such a devastating period in their history.

Meet Bobby Pool

Recently elected president of Mary Washington's Class of '45 is Barbara Pool. "Bobby," as she is known to her friends, from Wilmington, Delaware, and is a tall, well-built blonde, with flashing eyes and a ready smile. In junior high school she started holding responsible class offices, and served as vice-president of her tenth grade and secretary of her eleventh.

She was well-liked and popular in high school, where she belonged to the Ushers and Hostesses Club. She likes sports-especially horseback riding, and dancing-especially jitterbug. And not to be forgotten, she likes to eat. Favorite dishes are lamb chops, baked potatoes, Maryland biscuits, and devil's food cake.

A full time job at the moment is a rush to finish a sweater she has been working on for three years.

In regard to M. W. C., Barbara says, "I like it very well. I like the spirit of the girls, my classes, and my teachers."

So in case you're wanting to meet an especially nice girl, we suggest that you go down to Cornell 28 and ask for "Bobby." We know you'll like her.

Let's have a change of scenery this week and wander over to Westmoreland where we hear those seniors are having such a wonderful time, especially C. Murchhead, M. Powellson, Ann Abell, and Martha Minges. It seems that their visit to the frat houses at the U of Richmond was a huge success and they came back feeling very, very happy about the whole affair. . . Even though Betty Parshall left the U of Illinois to attend M. W. C. she most certainly didn't sever connections, at least with one young man who calls her to the telephone at least once a week—from Urbana too! . . If Jayne Waugh seems to be wandering around in a daze it all might be explained by the fact that that little love bug is loose again, aren't we right Jayne? Or don't you see Herbie when you go home (and so often too). . . Ann Gibler's ship came in when her two cute ensigns from Norfolk took her on a cruise around the campus or was it vice versa, well anyway it isn't hard to see which one she likes the better. The one who took her to the Wm. and Mary-Navy football game and who gave her the use of his car, of course! . . Hmm, having two dates in one night seems to be the latest fad and Betty Willoughby is no exception. However, she solved her problem by sending Jack home, or did he leave when the competition became too great? . . Marianne McCrane thinks Pete is just too, too sweet, could it be because he sent her that delicious five pound box of Fannie Farmer chocolates or does she have still another reason. . . Everyone is wondering just who this Percy is, especially after Nancy Mann has hinted that she might bring him to the steak fry. . . Ah ha our guess is that Evelyn Kirby isn't contented with just having dates over the weekend, at least there was one OF THEM with her all day Monday. . . One might think that Bunny Pruner was "Carrying the Torch For Jim" since that Randolph-Macon boy is seen with her right often but we hear from a certain source that he is merely her DOCTOR. Nevertheless his prescriptions must be all right because we've never seen her look better. . . Betty Williams certainly was SLIPPING when she went to the U of Richmond and we don't mean with the boys either, just ask her how it all happened. Grace Curitan, Joe Reasor and Mary Patton evidently had a super time at the Clemson-G. W. football game and no wonder with such darling dates. Did someone say we would be seeing them to the steak fry. . . Ah ha our guess is that Evelyn Kirby isn't we hope so. . . We knew a great many things would happen at the horse show but who would have guessed that Lois Brill and Bobby Combs (such an attractive two-some) would hit it off so well together. . . Who will put up odds that Edith Beamer will decide in favor of accepting that Navy minature from Don Jones? My, it must be a great problem! . . It must have been quite a sight to see Isabell Elliot with her hair down since several bold seniors took matter into their own hands and chopped a few waves(????) off. Whew, what a bang up joke. . . So 'tis enough chitter-chatter about the seniors for awhile and here's wishing all the girls going to Penn State, U of Richmond, U of Virginia, Wm and Mary etc. a glorious weekend.

Add To Mobile Kitchen

"Those mobile kitchens are invaluable, for when people come out of the air raid shelters and find that they have no home left, they need something under their belt to put them off to another start," said Mr. Malcolm, private secretary of Lord Halifax, when he learned of the mobile kitchen Mary Washington is going to send to England. He was very much pleased about it.

Dept. Of Taxation

Miss Carolee Pollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Pollard of Richmond, received her B. S. Degree from Mary Washington College.

For the past ten years she has been assistant to the Treasurer of the College in Fredericksburg. During her college days and administrative association Miss Pollard was popular with students and staff alike.

Her new association takes her to the State Finance Building, Department of Taxation in Richmond, Virginia.

In regard to M. W. C., Barbara says, "I like it very well. I like the spirit of the girls, my classes, and my teachers."

So in case you're wanting to meet an especially nice girl, we suggest that you go down to Cornell 28 and ask for "Bobby." We know you'll like her.

Miller And McKeen Win Tennis Finals

Helen Miller and Molly McKeen met and defeated Billie and Nancy Shugart, sister team, on the tennis court, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the doubles tennis final, Sunday afternoon, at what looked from the start to be anybody's match.

Add McKeen's serves to Miller's net playing, plus good court positions of both, and you have the winner's winning combination for the doubles match.

Shugarts Take First Set

The Shugart team, off to a fine start, completely outplayed Miller and McKeen in the first set, baffling them with a reverse windup that lent strong twist to their serve. This serve takes much strength, however, and by the end of the match, their serves were weaker, most of the time requiring two tries to make it good. Billie Shugart had a very strong drive, both backhand and forehand, and when combined with excellent placements as was often the case, made point after point in that first set. The score of that set ended 2-6 in favor of Shugart and Shugart.

Miller's Net Play Excellent

In the second set the winners woke up and played interesting tennis, consisting of good placement, excellent network and serves. They were given strong competition by the sister team, who finally lost the match to Miller and McKeen 6-4 thus tying the score in sets at one all. Cut shots and spins predominated in Miller's drives beginning in this set and soon piled up points for the winners.

Miller and McKeen had the Shugarts on the run in the third and final set, winning 6-4. By this time the Shugarts were a very tired team and lost many points because neither played net, a thing they had been taught not to do, and by this time it required the energy they didn't have to run up and return net and drop shots. Their game was played entirely from the back line of the court.

One of the nicest shots of the game was by Billie Shugart, a drop shot just across the net, that landed directly at the feet of Miller, who found it impossible to return.

The umpire was Dr. Baker and the scorer Mid McPherson, tennis chairman.

year was elected to the highest honor on the hill—that of president of the student body. Miss Seay is an elementary education major.

Representing the physical education department is Evelyn Kerby, last year's house president of Ball Hall. Always an active member in sports groups, Miss Kerby is the president of the athletic association this year.

Katherine Nutt, a student outstanding in scholarship and extra-curricular activities, is president of the Athenaeum. Miss Nutt is also on the staff of the school publication and is an active member of several clubs here on the hill.

The editor-in-chief of the Battlefield, Edith Beamer, is also among the honored students. Previous to this year she has been on the staff, was vice-president of the Cotillion Club last year, and was winner of the beauty contest her freshman year. Miss Beamer is ma-

Junior Dance Club Formed Under Senior Club Sponsorship

A Junior Modern Dance Club has been organized with directors from the Senior Dance Club, Penney Brien and Francis Wills. Officers for the year have been chosen and a few early plans made.

This Club was organized to take care of the demands of girls who enjoyed modern dance and were interested in it. It is a build up to the Senior Dance Club. The dancers are learning the fundamentals of the dance and soon will study creative work.

Officers elected were Betty Riggs, President, Louise G. Acuff, Vice-President, Muriel E. Childs, Secretary-Treasurer, and Majorie D. Storms, Club Reporter.

The first social event of the year is to be a supper at the Cabin, November 15. Following the supper there will be a program. Some of the girls will spend the night and enjoy a hearty breakfast before returning to the hill.

Betty Riggs, the Club's President, has been chosen as representative in the Junior Class Beauty Contest.

Dr. Mary Baker will act as the Club Sponsor.

Dorothy Harrington, a dramatic major, is representing that department as president of The Mary Washington Players. She represented them in the beauty contest last year, is a German Club member; this year, and has been outstanding in dramatic productions throughout her four years at school.

Betty Whitacre Hunter has been honored for her outstanding work in her major field, home economics. Mrs. Hunter is also a member of German Club and a consistent beauty contest representative.

The president of the Senior class, Nancy Mann, is duly honored by her appearance in "Who's Who." She was president of last year's Junior class. A member of the Cotillion Club, and is an elementary major.

Mary M. Moran, one of the two Juniors represented, has been outstanding in athletics and Y. W. work during her three years at college. A physical education major, Miss Moran is vice-president of Y. W.

The editor-in-chief of the Bullet, Sally McPhail, is also among those Seniors honored by having her biography printed in "Who's Who." An English major, Miss McPhail has shown a decided talent in journalism with her work on the school paper.

Myron Russell, the second Junior represented, is a French major. She is this year's house president of Mary Hall, and president of the Senior Dance Club. Miss Russell has been very active in modern dance programs, especially at May Day. She has been a beauty contest representative and is a member of the German Club.

Ada Clement, another Junior representative, can always be depended upon to help on the musical side of a program. Miss Clement is a music major, a member of Cotillion Club and an outstanding member of the Mary Washington

Hockey Team To Represent College At West Hampton

Sixteen girls have been chosen to represent Mary Washington College at the Annual Virginia Hockey Conference to be held in Richmond, at West Hampton College, the 8th and 9th.

The girls chosen are Becky Buckingham, Betty Beachamp, Dorothy Breding, Anita Devers, Lavina Ellett, Margurite Fortmann, Virginia Hawley, Shirley Kinsey, Ophelia LaPorte, Mildred McPherson, Claire Moore, Peggy Porch, Hazel Sniffen, Virginia Urbin, and Anna Belle Wats. These girls were chosen from the class teams and as a result of their work in the try-outs held the early part of this week.

The Conference held annually provides for social gathering among the colleges in the state through the sport of hockey. It is not intercollegiate sports competition but a opportunity to learn more about the sport and to meet the people who are responsible for its place in the sport world of today.

Colleges that will be represented are William and Mary, West Hampton, Madison, Sweet Briar, Mary Baldwin, Fairfax Hall and Randolph Macon.

Dr. Kelly was among the small but appreciative audience that watch the doubles tennis match. Sunday... She sat on the bench under the huge hickory tree and viewed the game from there...

Even Miss Hoye was there. However she viewed the game from the air as she flitted around in a brilliant yellow plane... By the way, the first time she saw the college golf course was three Sundays ago from the air.

On the way to Williamsburg to see the tennis exhibition, as given by Ruth Hardwick, Dorothy Little, and Charles Hare, Dr. Baker was stopped at the bug inspection station. When asked the usual routine of "Do you have any plants, shrubs, etc., she replied, "No, just growing girls". ... There seems to be a different answer to that question every time...

The monthly meeting of the Department of Health and Physical Education will be held at Dr. Kelly's home...

The final hockey games between the classes were put off until next week in favor of practice for the team going to Richmond this weekend... They will be played next week however...

Miss Stewart Asked To Serve As State Chairman

To Serve As

State Chairman

Miss Mildred P. Stewart, director of our Physical Education Department, has been asked to serve as chairman of the state of Virginia for the work done by the National Committee on Public Relations' Sub-committee on Talks and Speeches.

The Public Relations Committee was organized by the National Society of Directors of Physical Education for College Women. Talks and Speeches is a sub committee, headed by Maud Knapp, Stanford University, California.

The purpose of this organization came as result of the realization of the need for interpreting physical education to the public. The purpose of this sub-committee is three-fold: 1. To interpret Physical Education to the general public and to those educators not too well informed concerning its philosophy and aims; 2. To set up a bureau of sorts for information as to speakers of ability, topics upon which to speak; perhaps even outlines of speeches; 3. To obtain the above information from as many sources as possible.

Mr. Malcolm suggested two very good books on the war—"Diggings For Mrs. Miller" and "Bomber's Moon" by N. Falcon. "Diggings For Mrs. Miller" is a factual account of digging Mrs. Miller's body under the ruins of her house.

The English attitude toward labor," says Mr. Malcolm, "is very solid." He continued that the morale of the English people is also solid. "There was never a shake noticeably any where," he said.

About fifty persons attended the discussion after the Convocation. Among the distinguished were: Dr. Combs and his brother, Dr. Bauer, Dr. Kirby, Dr. M. C. Baker, Dr. Darter, Mrs. Synder and others. This informal discussion was held in the Westmoreland parlours.

The student body was very happy to have Mr. Malcolm visit the college, and wishes to express its appreciation to the International Relations Club for giving them the privilege of hearing so distinguished a speaker.

Art At Mary Washington

—by Alois Brill

Art appreciation and appreciation of painting, American art and architecture, and sculpture make for a cultural background, an enriched personality and develops one's esthetic nature.

Mary Washington recognizes these facts and provides art courses for anyone who wishes a well rounded education, and offers possibilities for creative art expression as a valuable means of using leisure time regardless of future professions. The past few years have seen a definite progress in the art department of the College, until this year's graduating class boasts many majors in the art field. This advancement may be accounted for by the utilization of the artistic ability of the students for

The first official swimming records of the year were set Saturday night in the indoor pool by the members of the Terrapin Club. These records can be challenged at any time by an student in the school. The ones set are as follows:

Records Set

29 yd. crawl, Ellen Trimble—11.5 seconds; 20 yd. breast, Jean Dupre—18 seconds; 20 yd. back-stroke, Lois Foggin—15 seconds; 40 yd. back-stroke, Emmy Lou Kirby—29 seconds; 40 yd. crawl, Ellen Trimble—25.5 seconds.

Official scorer—Betty Trinkleback; Timer—Robin Nelson; Starter—"Hid" McPherson.

Also on the program was some exhibition diving. Those who dove were—Virginia Johnson, handstand and jack-knife; Jean Dupre, running front drive; Jane Moss Coleman, jack-knife; Ellen Trimble, swan and back flip; Lois Foggin, back-jack-knife; and Jo Ward, back dive. The diving was very good and showed excellent form.

Lois Foggin and Ellen Trimble did some tandem swimming which was very neatly done. Both of these girls are freshmen and are showing up exceptionally well in form and speed.

Pajama Race Exciting

The last and most exciting event of all, perhaps, was the pajama race staged by Betty Lee Gilman and Ruth Miller against Ruth Ward and Barbara Grieves.

the direct application of their talents to school activities and projects. Art, at Mary Washington, beyond the general art which is required, becomes, to the student not a class, but rather a project, a piece of work she originates and then carries through to a finish with advice and direction from the art instructors.

General art offers a taste of various mediums and touches on many phases of art in the elementary stage. The student interested in commercial art finds offered almost anything in which she is interested. Commercial art places emphasis on lettering, decoration and advertising language. Experience in this phase of art always finds ready means of expression. The clubs and organizations here on the hill are frequently having posters and announcements up for one reason or another. The artistic training comes in to use also in decorating for parties and benefits, and in doing designs for programs and dance cards, Christmas cards and book plates.

The sets for the plays are designed by the students; May Day goes on before a background designed and executed by art students; and the costumes worn by the dancers are creations of the costuming design class. The classes in designing assist with modern dance programs and the costuming for benefits. In mural painting, ample opportunity is given for self-expression as here the student is allowed to work on individual projects of decoration and designing under direction of Mr. Schenck, who has already completed two murals for Washington Hall and is now painting murals in the E. Lee Trinkle Library.

CHAPTER NEWS

Culpeper:

The initial meeting of the Culpeper Chapter of Mary Washington College Alumnae Association was held on Friday evening August 15, 1941. There were 22 interested Alumnae present. Dr. Charles George Gordon Moss was present as guest speaker. He made a most interesting and inspiring address in which he told of the great possibilities of an alumnae chapter. He also told of the many ways in which such a chapter is helpful to a college as well as the multitude of helpers. Chapter is to the individual alumnae in that it keeps one in close contact with her Alma Mater. Upon the close of Dr. Moss' address a motion was made and carried that a Culpeper Chapter of the Mary Washington Alumnae Association be organized.

Officers were elected.

Three committees were appointed at this time: Social Committee—Mary Inskip Carpenter, ex '36, chairman; Lorele Bushong and Philippa Maddox; Dues Committee—F. D. Griffith, chairman; Ruth Madoc and Susie Stringfellow; Membership Committee—Marjorie Inskip, chairman.

The Chapter agreed to hold six meetings each year, the first one in September. At this meeting the Chapter entertained about 25 guests including the local M. W. C. students who were leaving shortly for the 41-42 term at College and also for the teachers who are M. W. C. alumnae and who are teaching in Culpeper during the session 41-42. This social took the form of a fall picnic at nearby picnic grounds. Later in the evening the Chapter had a very short and informal meeting around the open fire.

We have now a total of 26 members enrolled. Our next meeting will be a business meeting which will be held in the Culpeper High School Auditorium November 6th at 8 P. M.

Danville-Pittsylvania:

Fay Luther invited all the local Mary Washington Alumnae to meet at her home on Monday evening, October 20, at 8:00 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a local alumnae Chapter of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association. Officers were elected. Committees set up were: Membership Committee, Ila Yeatts; Program Chairman, Virginia Eastey; Publicity Chairman, Ellen Easterly.

Mary Hamlin Williams invited the Chapter to meet at her home Monday, November 3, at 8 P. M. Plans to attend the Luncheon at the Commonwealth Club, Richmond will be discussed at that time as will plans for a National Association Benefit and definite plans for the activities Chapter.

Eastern Shore:

The Eastern Shore Alumnae met at Whispering Pines for lunch, September 10 to organize a local Alumnae Chapter. Officers were elected. Regular meetings are to be held semi-annually in September and February.

Committees appointed were: Membership: Marie Finney Pennawell, '33, chairman; Social: Hilda Belote West, chairman; Publicity: Hammer Dunkley Burdick, '25, chairman.

Mary Washington students were invited to attend as guests of the Chapter. Among those present were: Alice Rogers Caseye, Kathryn Ann Arthur, Sarah Fosque, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, Gertrude Hamilton, Margaret James and Margaret Whittington.

Members present were: Mildred Chase Twyford, '25; Hilda Belote West, '28; Lilly Ralph Daughtry, '23; Anne Nicolls Waterfield, '20; Hammer Dunkley Burdick, '25; Grace Wyatt Taylor, '25; Marie Finney Pennewell, '33; Mary Kilmon Wood, '32; Louise Belote Harmon, '23; Katherine Belote Bull, '23; Margaret Phillips Elmore, '28; Katherine Warren, '26; Rhea James, '41; Janice Watson, '40; Helen Burton, '41; Sarah Ann Chandler, '39.

Other members not present are: Elaine Parks, '41; Mary Virginia James; Beulah Mason, '39; Annie Belote.

Plans were made for a Subscription Card Party to be held in Onancock the last of October.

Fredericksburg:

The first fall meeting was a dinner meeting held at the Virginia Inn, October 3.

Officers were elected for the coming year. Miss Stewart outlined the aims and objectives of the Association for the coming year.

The Chapter is to act as organizer and promoter of the Grab Bag Party. Detailed plans will be made later.

Roanoke-Salem:

In spite of the VMI-Virginia game in Lexington we had a grand luncheon, October 18.

New officers were elected. We are planning to get together to play bridge just for the fun on November 12. There will be a meeting either for the pleasure or business each month. A Benefit Bridge Party and Spring Fashion Show is planned for February.

(The Roanoke-Salem Chapter, though less than two years old, boasts 69 members—all taking an active interest in the Chapter's goings-on!!)

Peninsula:

Students planning to enter Mary Washington College this session were entertained at a party on May 30, at the Colony Inn, Hilton, between 4 and 6 in the afternoon.

After the social event, a business meeting was held. The officers were elected for the coming year.

The home of Barbara McGrath Newsome was the setting Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20th for the Mary Washington College Alumnae Tea sponsored by the Tidewater Chapter. Blue and white, the College colors, were carried out in decoration and refreshments. Laile Lett Webb presided at the tea table, and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Nathan Levy, Miriam Carpenter, Sylvie Herbert, Mildred Barney, Phillips Heuer, Lucile Delde, Alice McGrath, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Shirley Bormer, Mrs. Thomas Norfleet, Marjorie Baldwin, and Dorothy Day. The guests included students and alumnae from various parts of the Peninsula.

The officers held an Executive Meeting at the home of Lenore Daugherty Hulcher on Sept. 23. Plans were made for the year. With so many interested alumnae in this section of the state, the Tidewater Chapter is looking forward to a most successful year. At this meeting the following committees were appointed: Ways and Means: Mrs. A. T. Moss, chairman, Eloise Trussell, Marion Delk Lilly, Renel Walker, Doris Cooper, Florence Brockley, Elizabeth Bell, Frances Curtis Smith; PUBLICITY: Clara Rhoads, chairman, and Jeanette Cooper; HOSPITALITY: Mrs. Nathan Levy, chairman, Helen Kegley, Miriam Carpenter, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Florence Vaughan, Mrs. Ross Kearney and Mrs. N. J. Webb; MEMBERSHIP: Mrs. Rufus House, chairman, Dorothy Day, Shirley Bormer, Mary White, Kathleen Kessler, Elsie Norfleet, Jean McCaffrey, Marjorie Wootten, and Mrs. Louise Wheary; CONSTITUTION: Mrs. Alice Boyer, chairman, Clara Boyd Wheeler, Mrs. Ralph Newsome, Margaret Woody, Alice Menin, Charlotte Miles, and Mrs. John Nechols; PROGRAM: Mrs. A. L. Parrish, chairman; BULLETIN: Clara Richard, chairman.

A business meeting of the whole Chapter was held on Sept. 29th at the Y. W. C. A. in Newport News. Much interest was shown by the large group present. The committees met and made their plans. Clara Boyd Wheeler told us about the past work of the International Association. A committee was appointed to collect "white elephants" for the Grab Bag Party at the College. Clara Richards showed copies of the Epaulet and asked the alumnae to send in original literary material to be published.

A banquet was held on October 28.

Washington:

The Washington Chapter began functioning as an active group during the last year under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Payne. Our paid membership numbered thirty-five.

Two very successful luncheons were held, one in December and the other in March, and a bridge party was given in April.

The chapter contributed $10.00 to the National Association for files. Since most of the fundamental organizing was done during the last year, the Chapter hopes to accomplish a great deal during the coming year.

Our most important object is to increase our active membership and a committee is now at work on this project.

A luncheon was held on November 1st, at the Taft House Inn in Washington.

The Washington Chapter plans to contribute $25 to the National Association during the year 1941-42.

Plans are now getting underway for a proposed visit of potential students from Washington high schools in this vicinity, to the college one week-end in Spring.

A luncheon meeting was held in Norfolk, on Saturday, October 28. Twenty-six members were present. Officers were elected. At this meeting eleven members paid their Mary Washington College Alumnae Association dues to the Treasurer of our Chapter, to be sent to Mrs. Payne. Miss Clara Richards, Vice-Pres. of the M. W. C. Alumnae was our guest and instilled in us some of her own great enthusiasm. We have heard that Clara Boyd (Preacher) Wheeler is just across the river from us in USO work, and so we are expecting her to "ford" across sometime—soon.

Richmond:

This Chapter sent no report of activities, but they are doing a great piece of work in preparation for the Thanksgiving Luncheon.

The Magic Wand Is Waved On The Campus

Our newest building is the E. Lee Trinkle Library, named for the former Governor of Virginia. The complete cost of this wonderful building with all its equipment and furniture, will amount to over $200,000. Its total stack capacity provides for 150,000 volumes. These metal stacks consist of 5 tiers, running from the basement to the top floor at the rear of the building. Here, in these stacks, are twenty study carrels so that those doing intensive research may have a roomy desk to himself. The building has a large Rotunda entrance, in the center of its terrazzo floor, etched in bronze, is the seal of the College; a Reserve Book Room and Reference Room; a Periodical, Browsing, and Virginia Room; a Receiving Room; Offices; and a Museum Room.

The entire building is equipped with beautiful Windsor style chairs, walnut study tables, lounge chairs, fireplace etc. The rooms are lighted either by indirect lights or by unique chandeliers.

The Library faces the driveway leading through the Campus at a point almost opposite Madison Hall. A new brick walk has been laid on that side of the Drive, beginning at the Indoor Swimming Pool Building and extending to and beyond the Library. In addition, one brick walk has been laid in a gentle curve from the Library down into the Grove—and another walk from just beyond the Swimming Pool Building curves around and down into the Grove to meet the first walk. Then from their junction a third walk extends on down through the Grove—across the brook where the rustic bridge used to be and finally to the walkway along the Drive near the Sunken Road Entrance Gates. A sunken garden is being built in the section in closed by the curving walks between the Swimming Pool Building and the Library. All of this contributes more to the beauty of the Grove and our pleasure in using it as a delightful place in which to sit or stroll and dream over our cares away.

The Tri-Unit was also in line for attention this summer. During the vacation period between Summer and Fall Quarter, all walls and woodwork were painted—the walls in lovely pastel shades—floors were refinished; rugs and draperies were cleaned and new glass curtains hung in the reception hall and drawing rooms of Mary Ball.

Seacobeck has been completely renovated and re-decorated. The dining halls have been painted a lovely soft blue and cream; venetian blinds and beautiful new draperies have been hung throughout. These changes, together with rugs covering the entire dining hall floor area, have made it an even more beautiful place than we have known it to be in the past. Mrs. Eula Porter Robins, in the capacity of Administrative Dietitian, has charge of Food and Food Service. Working with her are Mrs. Ruff, in charge of Food Purchases; Miss Catherine Turner, Assistant Dietitian for Dining Halls and Miss Elene Buhson, Assistant Dietitian for the College Shoppe.

During the summer part of the library space in Virginia Hall, Mrs. Bushnell's former offices, and the former parlor space were converted into suites of rooms with connecting baths. The new parlors are in the other part of the former library space. Mrs. Bushnell's Offices occupy the former little South Entrance Parlor and the adjoining suite.

The United States Government Post Office, College Station, was built this summer across Avenue C from the Campus, in the section between the Chandler Gates and Seacobeck Drive. The Post Office serves all students, faculty, and nearby residents. It's only drawback: no more campus mail handled free of charge.

Miss Ida Taylor Traylor is now teaching ballet dancing on Thursdays here on the Campus. Miss Traylor has had the Tray-Boy School of Dancing in Richmond. She presented a group of her Richmond pupils at a Dance Recital for Convocation, Oct. 29.

Mary Washington Students are making a voluntary gift of a $1500 mobile kitchen for England.

The Lyceum Program this year will include the National Symphony Orchestra, the Don Cossacks, the Littlefield Ballet and the Bradford-Mills Opera Company's presentation of "La Traviata."

Applications for admission in September 1942 have been coming in since before this session started. Early application is necessary if one wishes to be assured of a dormitory room. This year we have a student body of around 1700 coming to us from thirty-eight states, Panama Canal Zone, Cuba and several foreign countries. Of these, only 1117 can be accommodated in Campus dormitories and only about 1225 can be given board in the College Dining Halls.

Among the members of the entering class as Rhode Island School of Design opens for its sixty-fourth year is Miss Nancy Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Browne, of Slocum Road, North Dartmouth.

Miss Browne graduated from the Dartmouth High School in 1939. She then took two years of work at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, Va., coming here to study in the Interior Design Department.

ALUMNAE LUNCHEON

The Alumnae Luncheon will be held at the Commonwealth Club, Richmond, on Friday, November 21, at 12:15.

Transportation will be furnished from and back to the John Marshall Hotel. Cars will leave Franklin Street entrance at 12:00.

Plate: $1.25, to be paid at the door.

Send card, stating names and number of reservations desired to Alumnae Executive Secretary, M. W. C., Fredericksburg, or to Mrs. David Woods, 1104 Fourqueran Lane, Richmond, Va. The telephone number is 2-3249.

ALUMNAE MEMBERSHIP

A copy of this Alumnae News has been sent to each alumna whose Life Membership dues or whose Annual dues have been paid. Additional copies of this issue have been printed and will be mailed to any alumna upon receipt of the $1.00 Annual or $20.00 Life Membership dues. Make checks payable to Treasurer, M. W. C. TIDBITS Phyllis Currie, '35, is Assistant Librarian of Kent, Conn. Memorial Library; Worthy Matron of Winton Chapter, O. E. S.; Sec't of Kent Service League; was Treasurer of Kent Patrons of Husbandry, Chapter 154, in 1941; recently completed Rid Cross First Aid Training Course; was first newspaper reporter on scene of serious New Haven RR train wreck. A six car campers train was partly derailed; two engineers killed and firemen badly injured when she arrived breathless on the scene of action.

Eva Catafygioti, '41, working on her Master's Degree at Radcliffe University.

Bowie White Dunn, '18, of West Palm Beach, Florida, completed her work for a B. S. Degree in Education during the summer session.

Frances Abbott, '25, (Mrs. Henry Pascale) has a daughter born July 14. Name: Frances Abbott.

Gladys Riggan, '28, (Mrs. Goodson Curtis) lives at Exmore, Va., where Mr. Curtis is a clerk.

Helen Riggan, '21 (Mrs. Clark Thorns) lives at Exmore, Va. Mr. Thorns is with Coast Guard in New York.

Josephine Ewing, '41, has entered the University of Richmond to study Dietetics.

Anne Seney, '34, a leader on the campus while at college, has had an interesting and varied career since. When asked to list some of her accomplishments, she replied, "I can't think of anything I have ever done that seems worthy of mention." However, after an interview, she timidly gave the following information. Miss Seney entitled it, "Road to Nothing." The reporter feels that she should be listed in "Who's Who for Mary Washington Alumnae." While at college, she was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and President of her class. She helped to organize the college orchestra, and played drums. After leaving college, she was a student in the John Hopkins School of Nursing and was president of her class for three years. She was head nurse on the staff of the operating room and assisted to Dr. Hugh Young. Miss Seney then accepted a position in the Shreveport Charity Hospital in La. Here she reorganized the operating rooms, and as a past time was active in the "Little Theatre" where she participated in several plays both on production staff and casts. Later she went to the Vanderbilt University Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., where she was Assistant Supervisor and Instructor of Operating Room Technique. Now Anne has completed a course in Aerodynamics at the Vanderbilt University, and has passed flight tests for a Private Pilot's license. She is a member of the National Aeronautical Association and is trying to get enough hours in the air to be eligible for commercial rating. She is now applying for service in the Women's Division of the Royal Air Force. Anne, you have made a fine record for yourself.
